Conference Overview

1 in 6 of our UK population has one or more disability.

‘I really genuinely think we have had a seismic effect in shifting public attitudes ... I don’t think they will ever see disability in the same way again.’

If the London 2012 Paralympics changed the way we think about disability – what difference has it made to our churches? If this challenges you then here is the conference for you. Book now.

Keynote speakers, expert talks, panel sessions, speakers with disabilities. The full day programme will include exploration of biblical perspective on disability and practical discussions about making your church’s ministry and mission more inclusive of disabled people.

A day packed with insights and ideas, talks and dialogue, aiming to make our churches increasingly accessible places with more inclusive activities, welcoming and building community life with disabled people.

Keynote Speakers

NORTH EAST:

Revd Roy Searle
A former President of the Baptist Union, Roy is a founder of the Northumbria Community and as one of its Overseers he spends his time writing, speaking and wandering for the love of Christ throughout Britain and Europe in Church and secular contexts, encouraging people to seek God and live generously. He has established Crossing Places, a missional initiative in North Northumberland, reaching out and relating to unchurched believers and unbelievers.

Revd Malcolm Duncan
As well as serving as Lead Pastor at Gold Hill Baptist Church, Malcolm is the founder and director of ‘Church and Community’, a charity committed to helping local churches to be ‘Good News’ people to their communities - embracing an inclusive and holistic approach to mission. He is an author, conference speaker and has recently become Chair of the Spring Harvest leadership team. He has personal experience of disability in his family life and is committed to championing the ministry and contribution of disabled people in the Church.

Dr Mike Townsend
A local church leader and technology consultant, Mike is a Trustee of the Royal National Institute of Blind People and the Torch Trust, and is Chair of Through the Roof. Mike, who lost his sight at the age of eight, is a regular speaker on disability topics.

SOUTH WEST:

Bishop Paul Hendricks
Paul Hendricks, the Bishops’ representative on National Catholic Disability Network, is also Chair of Southwark Diocesan Deaf Service and of the Bishops’ Conference Committee, which coordinates the diocesan Deaf Services nationally, as well as Chair of the Diocesan SEN Committee and a member of the board of The Kairos Forum.

Roy McCloughry
Roy lectures in Ethics at St John’s College, Nottingham and is Director of Kingdom Trust. He is the author of over a dozen books on contemporary social issues including disability. He is Chair of Lion Hudson Publishing and Vice-President of Livability. He has lived with epilepsy all his life.

Revd Malcolm Duncan
As well as serving as Lead Pastor at Gold Hill Baptist Church, Malcolm is the founder and director of ‘Church and Community’, a charity committed to helping local churches to be ‘Good News’ people to their communities - embracing an inclusive and holistic approach to mission.
