

You didn't help when you saw someone abusing a disabled person. Go back 2 spaces. Genesis 14. 14-16 Friendship comes to the other's defence 	You enjoy a face to face conversation with a blind lady. Move on a space. Exodus 33.11 Friends enjoy talking face to face 	You promise to be there for your deaf friend no matter what, and mean it. Move forward 4 spaces. Ruth 1. 16-17 Friends stay together through thick and thin
A disabled person in your church hasn't found anyone he could really call a soul-mate. Miss a turn. 1 Samuel 18. 1-3 Friends' souls are knitted together 	You invite a family with a disabled child to Sunday lunch. Roll again. 2 Samuel 10. 2 Friends show loyalty to one another's families 	A wheelchair user leaves your church because there's no one there that she feels safe with. Go back one space. 1 Samuel 22.23 Friends keep each other safe
You phone the mum of a lad with autism because the family hasn't been at church lately and you've missed them. Move on 3 spaces. 2 Samuel 1. 17-27 Friends feel the other's absence keenly 	Someone vows before God to look out for you. Take another turn. 1 Samuel 23. 16-18 Friends enter into covenant before God 	A lady in a wheelchair needs a lift to church but no one can be bothered as it means leaving home earlier than usual. Miss 2 turns. 2 Samuel 9. 1-13 Friends go to some effort to show kindness
A wheelchair user's taxi is late after church; you wait with him for an hour until it comes rather than leave him alone. Have an extra go. 2 Kings 2. 2 Friends stay together to the very end 	You're the pastor and a disabled man in your church is hit by the bedroom tax. You let him rant and don't interrupt. Move forward 1 space Job 2. 11-13 Friends know how to empathise 	You're the minister's wife and you not only visit a disabled mother who's ill, you bring dinner. Move forward 2 spaces. Job 6. 14 Friends don't withhold kindness from each other

You are gathering to pray for a sick friend. You hold the meeting in a wheelchair user's home so he can be involved too. Roll again Job 16. 20-21 Friends intercede for each other 	You take a book to church to lend to a disabled friend and he has brought the same one to lend to you. Move on 2 Proverbs 13. 20 Friends become like each other 	A disabled man's family won't drive to be with him for Christmas and he can't get to them so you invite him to stay. Move on 4 spaces Proverbs 18.24 A true friend sticks closer than a brother
As a new believer you invite a disabled church member out for coffee so you can learn from her experience. Move on 3 Psalm 119. 63 It's good to seek out godly friends 	You have a conversation with someone, speculating about a new church member's disability. He overhears you. Go back 3. Proverbs 17. 9 True friends don't gossip about each other 	You are willing to lend a listening ear to a disabled man talking about his problems, until he loses his job. Then you give up on him. Miss a turn. Proverbs 17. 17 Friends love at all times, including in adversity
You are stewarding; you note a disabled man's address and promise to arrange a lift for next week but then forget. Go back 1 space Proverbs 20. 6 Friends are reliable and faithful 	Ouch! You are pulled up on your bad attitude by a blind friend, but you're glad he loves you enough to do it. Roll again. Proverbs 27. 5-6 Friends speak and hear the truth in love 	You've been pondering this problem all week but a disabled friend's advice gives you a great solution. Move on 2 spaces. Proverbs 27.9 Friends give counsel as sweet as perfume
A disabled man in the housegroup you lead has put his foot in it, and asks you to put in a good word for him but you tell him it's his problem. Go back 3 spaces. Ecclesiastes 4. 9-10 Friends help each other up from a fall 	You don't know why you disabled friend has invited you for coffee but you know from experience it will do you good. Roll again. Proverbs 27.17 Friends sharpen each other as iron sharpens iron 	You won't advertise a Down's Syndrome lady's crafts on your Facebook page in case it detracts from your own sales. Go back 2. Daniel 2. 49 Friends promote each other's best interests

You ask a disabled friend at church if you can meet up weekly for prayer and Bible study. Go forward 4 spaces. Amos 3. 3 Friends walk together in agreement 	You've all been asked not to lend John money but you feel sorry for him so you slip him a fiver. Go back 4. John 11. 5-6 Friends do what's best for each other in the long term, not the short term 	After observing you talking to Lucy who has autism, her mum remarks, "She would take a bullet for you" and she knows it's true. Roll again. John 15. 12-13 Friends lay down their lives for each other
Your disabled fellow church member thought you were good friends, but something's bothering you and you won't tell her what. Miss a go. John 15. 14-15 Friends disclose their business to each other 	You keep arranging to meet up with a friend who has a facial disfigurement just so you can both share what God's been doing in your lives. Roll again. Acts 2. 42 Friends devote themselves to godly fellowship 	You know his autism means he doesn't like touch, but you have a real job to restrain yourself from hugging him when you meet! Roll again. Romans 12.10 Friends love with brotherly affection
At church a wheelchair user tries to explain why she's feeling down but you shrug it off with "You're just having a bad day, it's probably hormonal." Go back 4 spaces. Romans 12.15 Friends enter into each other's feelings 	A disabled church member asks if you could spare her £2 for the gas meter but you don't want to risk being short yourself so you say no. Go back 3 spaces. Romans 16. 4 Friends risk their necks for each other 	A disabled friend gets a job after a period of unemployment and you feel like turning cartwheels, you're so happy. Roll again. Philippians 2. 19 Friends are cheered up by each other's good news
You catch a disabled member of your housegroup telling a white lie and warn the group not to believe all he says. Go back 3 spaces. 1 Peter 4. 8 Friends cover each other's sins 	You're the pastor and when a disabled lady tells you she's really worried about how she's going to pay the rent you just shrug and say, "I expect you'll be ok". Go back 3 spaces. Philippians 2. 20 Friends genuinely care for each other's welfare 	You give a disabled friend the chance to host your housegroup even though you wonder if he's too tired in the evenings to prepare refreshments. Roll again. 1 Peter 4. 9-10 Friends show hospitality without grumbling and serve one another

You encourage a friend to join a disabled swimmers' club even though it meets every Sunday morning so means her giving up church. Go back 3 spaces. Proverbs 12. 26 Choose friends carefully – some will lead you astray Through the roof	Your best friend at church is disabled, and someone told you that she's fed up with your moaning so now you won't speak to her. Miss 2 turns. Proverbs 16.28 Look out for gossips – they will separate close friends Through the roof	A bad-tempered trouble maker in the youth group befriends a lad with autism, and now everyone assumes the lad must be like that too. Go back 4 spaces. Proverbs 22. 24 Don't make friends with a hot-tempered person Through the roof
--	--	--

